

Distribution times

The following table shows when royalties will be distributed after the use of repertoire in the UK

When will I be paid?

When my music was used	PRS			MCPS
	Television (except music channels)	Radio, cinema, live (except concerts), background music, music TV channels	Online music licences (e.g. Netflix, Amazon Prime)	TV broadcasts	Radio broadcasts	AP1 audio products, record labels and audiovisual products	AP2 and AP2A audio products, and covermounts
January	July	July	October	July	July	May	May
February							June
March							July
April	October	October	December	October	October	August	August
May							September
June							October
July	December	December	April	December	December	November	November
August							December
September							January
October	April	April	July	April	April	February	February
November							March
December							April

Unpaid performance claims
 Successful claims for unpaid performances are usually distributed at the earliest next available distribution.

The above distribution timetable forms the expected payment schedule for most royalties, however late reporting occasionally causes royalty payment to be delayed until the following distribution period. Members should not contact Member Services until after the second distribution has passed without payment.